

Borders and Globalisation

Key words:

ABSTRACT

A great majority of the inter-state conflicts here and there are born of the non-respect of boundaries by neighbouring countries. This state of affairs fosters and nourishes arbitrary actions. Consequently, we are witnesses of ranging wars which jeopardise the peace between peoples (Nations); peace which is a fundamental and indispensable prerequisite for globalisation.

Hence the pressing need to place physical markers (pillars) by carrying out systematic demarcation and constant maintenance of these borders.
But how and with which resources?

We hereby urge politicians through the World Bank to set up a World financial institution to fund the demarcation of borders.

Thus the creation of an international demarcations commission (IDC).
